CAPTURE BANDITS WHO ROBBED STORE; BOTH SAY GUILTY

Relicke and Bordner Held in $3,000 Bonds—Make Full Confessions.

Mike Relicke, 18, of 188 E. Marion st., and Glen Bordner, 24, of N. Merrifield st., the youthful bandits who held up Alex Katz, local storekeeper, Aug. 24 at the point of a gun and robbed him of $100, were arraigned before Judge Peig Wednesday morning. Both were bound over for the next term of the circuit court in bail of $3,000 each.

Relicke, scarcely more than a boy in appearance, was released when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Relicke, furnished his bail bond. Bordner, the older of the duo, was taken to the county jail to await trial.

Both men entered a plea of guilty, and before being arraigned, they made a complete confession to Deputy Prosec. Atty. E. J. Boyce and to Chief of Police Hendon, they said. Bordner and Relicke stated the Katz hold-up in true western style. Just a few minutes before closing time, as Katz and his wife were making up the day's receipts at their grocery store, 1145 E. Third st., the pair entered the store, masked, and pointing revolvers at the frightened couple, gruffly said: "Stick 'em up!" A hasty survey of the cash register showed $100 in bills which the bandits took. Then they turned and running toward a large automobile, were out of sight before the dazed grocers could give an alarm.

From a description of the bandits

MISHAWAKA THEATRES

LINCOLN
The feature picture coming to the Lincoln theater Saturday is the type of a western picture which everyone enjoys seeing. It stars Jack Hoxie who has already become a great favorite with the picture fans because of his genuine acting in his three features preceding this latest picture which is entitled "The Sheriff of Hope Eternal."

CENTURY
The Fall Style show, staged by several of the live-wire local merchants, takes place on the stage of the Century theater, in connection with the regular vaudeville and picture program, for three nights starting Friday, with a special matinee performance on Sunday. Six beautiful living models secured by the Century management will display the latest fashions in fall clothes.

ARE PRICES COMING DOWN.

Few people realize the great change in retail prices during the past six months. The downward trend has been so decided that in many cases the prices are now on a level with prices prevailing in 1914. For example women's coats which sold for $40 a year ago, the same coat can be bought this fall for $25. A yard of muslin which sold for 48 cents last fall can be bought now for 14 cents. For three days only, Thursday, Friday and Saturday Winerys are offering new fall coats, suits and dresses at 10 per cent off their regular prices, the savings are from $1.50 to $10. —Advertisement.
